Gabriel Iglesias is not fat. He's fluffy. At least that's how one of his most famous jokes tells it, and the self-deprecating sense of humor Gabriel is known for remains one of his most hilariously endearing qualities. His shows have been described as "electrifying," and "unbelievably funny," and this gifted performer has been working his way across most of America and parts of Europe over the past few years. Few comedians can compare to his vast imitative skills, used to re-create the sound effects of everything from speeding cars to microwave ovens to a plethora of dead-on voices. His uncanny mix of impeccable impressions and story-telling makes his act one of the most animated around, and it has won him massive nationwide appeal.

Gabriel's mass appeal opened the door to a rare opportunity to film two one-hour specials and DVDs, the second one titled "I'm Not Fat... I'm Fluffy," Live from El Paso. Gabriel has also appeared on "Last Comic Standing", ABC's "My Wife & Kids," Showtime's "Resurrection Boulevard," "Jimmy Kimmel Live," "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno," "Good Morning America," "The Late Late Show," FOX TV's "The Family Guy," "Showtime at the Apollo" and BET's "Comic View."
