Taking their name from the 20th century surrealist artist Joan Miró, the Miró String Quartet is celebrating their 18th year performing together. Formed in 1995 and based in Austin, Texas, the group has created a sound that mirrors the imaginative artist’s works. Heralded by critics as “vital and vigorous” even when they were new to the scene, Miró String Quartet has continued to woo crowds with their fresh interpretations of classical mainstays.

The Miró String Quartet is presented by Wisconsin Union Directorate’s Performing Arts Committee and supported by WORT.
